Shelters Vie to Participate in $100K Challenge—Vote for Your Favorite!

In early March, we told you about our exciting new partnership with Rachael Ray and the launch of this year's shelter contest, the 2012 ASPCA Rachael Ray $100K Challenge. As always, we knew we could count on you to spread the word, and we are thrilled that 104 animal shelters have been accepted to compete in this year's Challenge qualifying heat!

So, what happens next? During the qualifying heat, which kicked off on April 5, shelters need their supporters—i.e. you!—to vote online to send them to the Challenge. The five shelters with the most votes in each division will automatically earn spots in the Challenge. The remaining shelters with the most votes will earn the other 25 spots, for a total of 50 contestants competing for more than $500,000 in prizes.

"When we first introduced the qualifying heat last year, we were amazed by how much energy and passion it injected into the contest," said Bert Troughton, Vice President of Community Outreach for the ASPCA. "More than 500,000 votes were cast by the public in just 12 days."

Help us beat last year's record! Visit www.votetosavelives.org to cast your vote and help decide which 50 animal shelters will get to compete in the 2012 Challenge. Fans and supporters can vote for their favorite shelter daily until midnight EDT on Monday, April 16. Even one vote can make a big difference to your favorite contestant!

Check out the full list of this year's qualifying organizations, and don't forget to vote for your favorite at www.votetosavellves.org. Stay tuned to www.aspca.org/100k for all the latest Challenge news, including our announcement of the 50 winning contestants on April 17!
