Gary Resnick, Mayor of Wilton Manors Florida Appointed to National League of Cities Information Technology & Communications Steering Committee

Wilton Manors, Florida (January 15, 2014) – Gary Resnick, Mayor of the City of Wilton Manors, Florida has been appointed to the National League of Cities (NLC) 2014 Information Technology & Communications Steering Committee. This Committee has the lead responsibility for developing NLC federal policy positions on issues involving telecommunications and information systems (and public access to these systems), privacy concerns, cable TV, phone services, spectrum issues, communications tower siting, universal service, broadcasting and defense of city rights-of-way from degradation caused by installation of communications facilities. The appointment was announced by NLC President Chris Coleman, Mayor, St. Paul, Minnesota.

“As a previous member of the National League of Cities Information Technology & Communications Steering Committee, it is both a privilege and honor to represent the City of Wilton Manors,” said Mayor Gary Resnick. “This committee serves to explore innovative technological advancements in IT and communications and develop policy that directly affects public access to these systems. It has been, and will continue to be, immensely productive and valuable to our community.”

As a member of the committee, Mayor Resnick will play a key role in shaping NLC’s policy positions and advocate on behalf of America’s cities and towns before Congress, with the Administration and at home.

The chair of this year’s Information Technology & Communications Committee is Beth Martinez Humenik, councilmember, Thornton, Colo. Serving as this year’s vice chairs are Jeffrey Quibell, councilmember, Blue Springs, Mo. and Phil Goldstein, councilmember, Marietta, Ga.
